

CHILD & YOUTH PROGRAMS

Instructor in the Spotlight

Kevin Nasiri

Kevin is originally from Richmond, BC and recently moved to Whitehorse. He made the move to the north seeking adventure and so far the Yukon has exceeded his expectations. Kevin studied Physical Education and Coaching and holds a Diploma in Sport Science. For the past 10 years, Kevin has applied his education to the field of recreation and specifically his expertise lies in child and youth programming. Kevin views child & youth programs as important vehicles for promoting healthy child development by engaging children in physical and creative activities and through partnerships, linking children with other community organisations and clubs. As the Child & Youth Coordinator at the Canada Games Centre, Kevin has the privilege to engage with the many children and youth that participate in activities at the facility. He is an educator at heart and an advocate for children and youth engaging within their community. Occasionally you can catch Kevin playing basketball with youth in the Flexihall. If you see him in the concourse please don't hesitate to say hello!
