

Agent Red October's Recruitment Letter

Today I write about new recruits becoming spies. Agents must hone their skill so that they can be the very best. NEST must ensure that they provide the proper training.

Keeping the public safe is the main duty for new recruits. Everyone in the world is counting on you to save the day. So you must take your duties as a spy very seriously.

Choosing to become an agent for NEST can be a lot of fun. However, there are challenges. You must make sure that you are ready for anything. Agents have to be able to react and respond to any situation. They must also use their brain to answer any mysteries or to solve clues and riddles. There are countless strategies to use when solving a clue. NEST is a taskforce that will train you to be a good agent. So that in every situation you are prepared. Joining NEST is certainly the right thing to do.

Indeed, being a spy is about solving clues. Sometimes there are secret messages hiding in plain sight. Be on the look out.

Good luck Agents.
