PUBLIC HEARING

Mayor Cameron advised that a Public Hearing was scheduled at this meeting to hear any submissions with respect to the proposed Zoning Bylaw 2025-37.

2025 Zoning Bylaw

Administration confirmed that at the time of counting, 123 written submissions were received, 39 in support, 42 in opposition and 42 noting concerns.

Mayor Cameron called three times for submissions with respect to the proposed Zoning Bylaw 2025-37.

Sara Skelton spoke in opposition to the proposed regulations on short-term rentals (STRs) and stated that the regulations would not result in STR owners converting to long-term rentals.

Sara Skelton

Brooke Land-Murphy raised concerns with the clarity of the proposed regulations on STRs and the data informing the regulations, stating that requiring owners to obtain a permit would result in resource impacts and unneeded redundancy.

Brooke Land-Murphy

Nancy Meagher, representing the Yukon Dark Skies Initiative, raised concerns that the proposed lighting regulations will not properly limit the harmful environmental, economic, and community impacts. The speaker provided recommendations and as requested by Council members, expanded on how light levels can be measured.

Nancy Meagher, Yukon Dark
Skies Initiative

Inga Petri, opposed to the proposed STR regulations, raised concerns that the data is too insufficient to inform the regulations, stating land supply and permitting delays as the biggest contributors to housing supply issues.

Inga Petri

Ovide Perrault, representing the Whistle Bend Community Association, described current issues with parking in the Whistle Bend area and recommended changes to the parking requirements proposed in the bylaw.

Ovide Perrault, Whistle Bend
Community Association

Marcos Castillo, representing the Whitehorse Chamber of Commerce, raised concerns regarding the proposed STR regulation due to the negative impacts experienced by other municipalities, requesting Council assess regulating STRs carefully and take the unique specifics of Whitehorse into consideration.

Marcos Castillo, Board Chair,
Whitehorse Chamber of Commerce

Keitha Clarke presented a letter on behalf of Corin Noble in support of the proposed Short-Term Rental regulations, citing the potential to increase housing availability and reduce costs for first-time homeowners.

Keitha Clarke / Corin Noble

Deborah Gray raised concerns regarding the proposed Short-Term Rental regulations, particularly the duration limits, and requested that Council consider the potential impacts on existing STR arrangements that have benefited the community and may not be viable in a long-term rental format.

Deborah Gray

Marie Fast, representing the Church of the Nazarene, raised concerns about the new zoning proposed for the area the Church is located as it does not permit religious assembly, requesting that the current zoning be retained or that the new zoning be amended to allow religious assembly.

Marie Fast, Church of the Nazarene

Anson Zhen spoke in opposition to the proposed STR regulations, stating that the regulations would negatively impact the tourism industry and community as whole while having little to no effect on the regular residential housing market.

Anson Zhen

Kieran Poile spoke in full support of the proposed Zoning Bylaw and the regulations on STRs in particular, describing negative impacts of unregulated STRs on the housing supply and local rental market.

Kieran Poile

Amber Ursich raised concerns with the proposed regulations on STRs, outlining various instances where it is unclear how the regulations would apply, and explained that switching to a long-term rental is not guaranteed if short-term is no longer an option.

Amber Ursich

Rachel Grantham spoke in support of STR regulation but raised concerns about the regulations being proposed, specifically about the milder regulations for commercial zones in comparison to the strict residential zone regulations.

Rachel Grantham

Speaking in opposition to the proposed STR regulations, Antoinette Greenoliph shared personal experience in relying on an STR to support retirement, requesting Council consider how the regulations might impact similar individuals.

Antoinette Greenoliph

Richard Annette spoke to the regulations proposed in the Zoning Bylaw, noting support for regulating STRs, and raising concerns about the proposed regulations on parking, mobile homes, and building heights.

Richard Annette

Ben Perrera, representing Neighbourly North, spoke in opposition to the proposed regulations on STRs, particularly the requirement for an STR to be the primary residence of the operator.

Ben Perrera, Neighbourly
North

Sylvie Binette raised concerns regarding the proposed regulations on STRs, explaining how the flexibility of STRs can support operators in a way long-term rental can't and that the percentage of renters who prefer short-term has increased over the years.

Sylvie Binette

Ben Moffat spoke in opposition to the proposed STR regulations, describing how STRs can be used to support low-income homeowners and how vital the visitors that rent short-term can be for the community, including tourists and travelling medical staff.

Ben Moffat

Kristina Craig spoke in support of the proposed Zoning Bylaw, particularly including supportive housing as a principal use for all residential zones, bolstering affordable housing incentives, and the STR regulations, and recommended clarifying how affordability is defined and how the regulations will be enforced.

Kristina Craig

Heather Milligan presented concerns regarding the proposed removal of a current setback exemption for certain lots in Takhini North as it would restrict the homeowners from renovation unless significant costs are undertaken to conform with new setbacks.

Heather Milligan

Richard Zral raised concerns regarding the proposed parking regulations, stating parking availability is already an issue and will only worsen as densification increases.

Richard Zral

Dakota Tomah, representing CPAWS Yukon, spoke in opposition to the proposed new zoning of an area south of Whistle Bend Way due to its critical role for wildlife and stated that the area shouldn't be considered an alternative development option to Porter Creek D as it poses similar issues.

Dakota Tomah, CPAWS
Yukon

Remy Rodden raised concerns with the proposal to change the zoning of an area south of Whistle Bend Way, describing the importance of the greenspace to residents and wildlife in the area and noting the City has designated it as a highly sensitive ecological area.

Remy Rodden

Sam Reimer spoke to the proposed STR regulations, raising concerns that they will negatively impact the community in several areas beyond tourism, noting the use of STRs by various professionals such as medical specialists and contract workers.

Sam Reimer

Valerii Shapoval spoke in opposition to the proposed STR regulations, raising concerns that they will negatively impact STR operators and clients and not result in improvements to the other housing markets.

Valerii Shapoval

Quynh Nguyen spoke in opposition to the proposed regulations on STRs, explaining that many STR operators rely on STRs to support their families and that making STRs no longer viable doesn't guarantee every operator will convert to long-term agreements.

Quynh Nguyen

A Point of Order was called, and the speaker was censured in violation of Section 80 of the Council Procedures Bylaw 2021-12.

Mei Xing Huang

Mike McCormick spoke in opposition to various sections in the proposed Zoning Bylaw, including the STR regulations and building height increases, urging Council to strongly consider the potential impacts of the proposed changes on the cost and quality of living residents of the community.

Mike McCormick

Jessica Rowat raised concerns with the proposed STR regulations, expressing support for some regulations but not as currently proposed, emphasizing Whitehorse requires careful consideration as a unique community and shouldn't be regulated based solely on data from larger cities.

Jessica Rowat

Eve Sankar raised concerns with the proposed Zoning Bylaw, urging Council to consider how shortening and minimizing delays in the development process will help address housing costs.

Eve Sankar

Hearing no additional submissions come forward, Mayor Cameron declared the Public Hearing for the proposed Zoning Bylaw 2025-37 now closed.
